This is the sort of weather that makes the cotton bear feel happy over his future.

It is now hinted that something rotten has been found in the dead letter department at Washington.

There's no discount on the "North Carolina Banking Edition" of the News and Observer. It is a capital paper, full of interest and deserves a large circulation.

The Milwaukee man who is clamorous for a "chair of humor" in the University of Wisconsin probably wishes to dispose of a stock of antiquated chestnuts.

It is no surprise to learn that the President has taken command of the investigating rough riders in Washington. Everything with which he is connected is "personally conducted."

Professor D. M. Bain Dead.

News reached the city yesterday of the death at his home near Whiteville on Saturday, of Prof. D. M. Bain, teacher of vocal music in the New Hanover public schools. He was a man of noble impulses and was a capable music teacher. His engagement as instructor in the public schools of this county again this Fall was a foregone conclusion, and the news of his death will be received with great regret. IN THE LEGAL REALM.

J. P. Hughes, White Escaped Convict, Captured by Columbus County Men.

THE MAGISTERIAL COURTS.

Rowdy Negroes Paid Heavy Fines for Reckless Driving Sunday—Charged With Illicit Liquor Dealing—Other Police Items, Etc.

J. P. Hughes, white, 38 years old, of Columbus county, who with twelve other prisoners escaped from the convict camp at Castle Hayne last April, was returned to Wilmington yesterday by Messrs. L. C. Harper and J. W. Powell, of Columbus, who effected his capture at the house of D. J. Hinson, near Lebanon, Saturday night about 12 o'clock. Hughes offered no resistance when captured, but had on his person an ugly-looking knife and an old cap and ball pistol, almost as long as one's arm. Hughes was placed in jail in Whiteville until yesterday when his captors delivered him to Sheriff Stedman and received from Chairman McEachern, of the Board of Commissioners, the $50 reward offered for his arrest.

The circumstances of Hughes' escape with the other convicts are well remembered by readers of this paper one of the number having been killed, in the break and several others having been wounded. All of the escapes have now been recaptured except one negro serving a short term. Hughes had served only a few months of a four-year term for bigamy and other crimes in Columbus. It was thought that he was wounded by the firing of the guards as he escaped with the squad but he told Jailor Capps yesterday that the guards "never teched him."

Messrs. Harper and Powell who captured Hughes Saturday night arrested him once before when he escaped from the Anson chain gang and he has sworn vengeance against them when he gets out again which he says will be very soon. When he completes his term here he will be returned to Anson to complete an "unexpired" term there and will later be sent to Columbus to answer other charges preferred against him in that county.

Eli Penny, another white convict from Columbus, died at the stockade a short time ago. His was the first death that has occurred at the camp since the county has been operating it.

In the Magisterial Courts.

In the municipal court yesterday Mayor Springer imposed fines of $10 and costs in each of two cases against James Johnson and Joe McNeal, "cullud spoats," who were arrested at Third and Davis streets by Policeman H. P. Merritt for fast and reckless driving and loud and profane language in the streets. "I wish I could fine you more under the ordinance for fast driving," remarked the Mayor, "but I can't, but will also try you for disorderly conduct, making the fine in each case $10." The negroes paid $28.30 each and were released. Joshua Payne, alias "Knotty," found asleep at Fourth and Swann streets, was fined $5 and costs. Albert Brown and Sandy Monroe, disorderly at Fourth and Bladen, were also each fined $5 and costs. Wm. Smith, drunk in the tobacco warehouse and arrested by Watchman R. G. Holmes, said he bought liquor Sunday from John Miller, a negro shop-keeper, and he was held pending Miller's arrest, which was accomplished yesterday evening by Policeman Frank George. George Larkins, arrested for selling unwholesome meat a year ago at Fourth street market, had his case continued until his counsel could appear. Several other arrests for disorderly conduct and gambling in Dross Neck were made during the afternoon and the defendants will be tried to-day.

In Justice Bornemann's court yesterday the negro women who used insolent language towards Mrs. W. S. Herring were allowed to pay costs, amounting to $7.30, and be discharged.

Miller, American representative of the Acme Tea Chest Co., of Glasgow, Scotland, has purchased for himself and associates from the Shawboro Lumber Co., with offices in Newbern, the smart little tug "Fawn," which was built in Swansboro in 1900 and used there for several years. Mr. Miller will use the tug for both private and public river and harbor towing. She is expected here this week, Capt. W. A. Snell, Engineer Judson Ward and Mr. Will W. Miller having left yesterday afternoon to bring her around.

The "Fawn" is 77 feet in length, 16 feet in breadth and 4 feet depth. She is 42 gross tons and 31 net tons register.

Y. M. C. A. Mass Meeting.

A mass meeting of members of the Y. M. C. A. will be held in the Association building Friday evening of this week for the purpose of awakening interest in the work and informing the body of just what is being accomplished, etc. The meeting will be both of a social and business nature. There will be an interesting programme of music and several addresses, chief among which will be one by the Rev. Dr. McClure on the "Value of the Association." A large attendance is earnestly desired.

THE CAROLINA YACHT CLUB.

Semi-Centennial Celebration Will Take Place To-night—Annual Regatta Next Saturday Afternoon.

All arrangements are complete for the semi-centennial celebration of the Carolina Yacht Club at Wrightsville Beach to-night and if the weather is at all favorable there will be a large number of clubmen and their friends in attendance. The club house will be brilliantly lighted from two powerful arc lamps of 2,000 candle power each and at the entrance, on the exterior, the figures "1853-1903" will be wrought in brightly-burning incandescents, making the scene a resplendent one indeed. The flags and colors of the club will also be used in an artistic decoration of the interior. Mrs. M. S. Willard, assisted by Mr. S. M. Boatwright, has charge of the interior decorations, while Maj. Wm. F. Robertson is looking after the outward appearances of the building upon this festive occasion.

Features of the celebration will be music, dancing and refreshments. The excellent Seashore Hotel Orchestra has been engaged for the night and that is sufficient guarantee of the success of the dance and musical programme. Mr. Geo. W. Kidder, assisted by Mr. F. A. Lord, is in general charge of the affair.

Another notable event in the life of the club this season will be the annual regatta of the club fleet on Saturday, July 4th., over the regular course in Banks' channel. There will be a dozen or more entries and the race promises to be exciting for all enthusiastic yachtsmen. Maj. Wm. F. Robertson, chairman of the regatta committee, officially calls the race to start at 2:30 P. M. and all boats are required to report at the pier at 1 P. M. A handsome sum was appropriated yesterday for the purchase of first and second prizes which will be selected and placed on exhibition by the committee to-day.

REMAINS LAID TO REST.

Funeral of the Late William Iredell Gore Sunday Afternoon—Tributes.

The funeral of the late William Iredell Gore, whose death occurred Saturday night, was conducted in the presence of a large assemblage of friends by the Rev. W. B. Oliver, of Florence, S. C., former pastor of the First Baptist church, this city, Sunday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Oliver made a touching reference to the beautiful life and character of the deceased and spoke words of comfort to the bereaved ones.

The music was by the First Baptist church choir, composed of Mrs. C. D. Weeks, soprano; Mrs. F. A. Muse, contralto; Mr. Chas. Dushan, tenor, and Mr. W. H. Alderman, bass. "Jesus Lover of My Soul," "Rock of Ages" and "Nearer My God to Thee," were the selections rendered at the residence and at the grave "Abide With Me" and "Good Night" were sweetly sung.

The grave was literally covered with beautiful flowers from friends as a token of their love and esteem. The pall-bearers were: Honorary, Capt. Alves Walker and Capt. J. L. Boatwright; active, Messrs. B. O. Stone, R. R. Stone, W. A. Rourk, Cuthbert Martin, Jno. H. Gore, Jr., James Allen, W. B. Cooper and L. B. Rogers.

The name of Mrs. J. H. Stone, of Little River, S. C., was erroneously given in the notice of the death Sunday morning for that of Mrs. W. H. Stone, of Little River, a sister of the deceased.

WILMINGTON WANTS ENCAMPMENT.

Chamber of Commerce Committee Will Urge Second Regiment to Come Here.

The Wilmington Chamber of Commerce will make a persistent effort to secure the encampment of the Second Regiment, North Carolina National Guard, for Wrightsville beach or sound this Summer. It was decided by the Adjutant General several days ago to have the encampment of the Guard by regiments in each of their several territories and it is highly proper that the Second should come to Wilmington. Indeed, it is said that a large majority of the companies of the regiment favor coming here.

President J. A. Taylor, of the Chamber of Commerce, yesterday appointed the following committee to exert every effort to get the troops to come to Wrightsville, viz: Col. T. C. James, chairman; Col. Walker Taylor, Capt. A. P. Adrian, Mr. Gabriel Holmes and Mr. M. W. Jacobi. The committee will take the matter up at once with the authorities at Raleigh and will without a doubt be successful in its efforts.

At the Casino.

The strongest bill of the season is now on at The Casino and the patronage should be large. Melville and May, comedy sketch artists; Miss Helen Pelletier; Jeanre and Renund, musical comedy team, and E. Will Bensley, a novelty foot-juggler, are some of the people who go to make up the company playing during the week. A 60-minute promenade concert is given after each performance.

One can enjoy the benefits of surf bathing and yet live in the city. ‡

NURSES GRADUATED.

First Annual Commencement Exercises at James Walker Memorial Hospital.

ADDRESS BY DR. BELLAMY.

Presentation of Diplomas by Dr. Joseph Akerman and Other Interesting Features—Informal Reception—Masonic Temple Quartette.

The exercises last evening attending the graduation of the Class of 1903 of the Training School for Nurses, conducted in connection with the James Walker Memorial Hospital, was a thoroughly charming and delightful affair indeed, reflecting greatest credit upon Dr. Joseph Akerman, the clever surgeon in charge; Miss Laura P. Clark, the graceful and highly efficient superintendent of nurses; the gentlemen composing the Board of Managers and those of the physicians of the city, who by the sacrifice of their time and attention, made possible a thorough course of lectures during the year.

The exercises took place in the assembly room on the first floor of the southwest wing of the building and were attended by many of the leading people of the city—both ladies and gentlemen—including almost the entire board of physicians of the county. The south end of the room, occupied by the speaker of the evening and others who took part in the exercises, was banked with palms and flowers, giving a very pretty effect indeed. The evening opened with devotional exercises by the Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of Saint Andrew's Presbyterian church, after which the audience listened with great pleasure to a superb rendition of "Twilight" (Koschat), by the Masonic Temple Quartette, composed of Messrs. Charles McMillen, Burdis Anderson, C. H. Cooper and H. K. Holden.

The annual address by Dr. W. J. H. Bellamy, which is published in full below, was delivered in most graceful and pleasing manner and was listened to with keenest interest and enthusiasm. He was warmly applauded upon the conclusion of the remarkably fine effort.

The presentation of diplomas by Dr. Akerman came next. Dr. Akerman is an easy and fluent speaker and accompanied the formal presentation with a pleasing allusion to that part of Dr. Bellamy's address referring to the establishment of the profession of trained nurse, citing the example of Ambroise Pare, who died as early as 1590. He also gave an incident of nurses having been kept at their post with a stick and spoke of the difference in favor of the present, when the trained nurse is the noblest and truest of God's creation. The value of military discipline was emphasized and he illustrated it by an incident of Napoleon's army in Italy where even teamsters were uniformed and taught to love and respect that uniform. He concluded his remarks with the formal presentation of diplomas, saying to the graduates, Miss Florence E. Hayes, of Pittsburg, Pa., and Miss Alberta Robinson, of Clinton: "By authority of the State of North Carolina, delegated to the Board of Managers of the James Walker Memorial Hospital, I hereby present you with this diploma, thus conferring upon you the title of trained nurse, with all rights and privileges thereto appertaining. As a further token of the appreciation of your care and attention by the managers, I hereby present you with the badge of the institution."

The diplomas are handsome works of art and the badge, a beautiful gold pin, circular in shape and bearing in the centre a white enamel cross. On the front around the circle are the words "James Walker Memorial Hospital, Wilmington, N. C.," and on the reverse side the name of the recipient beautifully engraved. The diplomas were received gracefully by Misses Hayes and Robinson amid the applause of the audience, their twelve school mates and other nurses in the institution, who occupied the front row of chairs in the room.

Upon the conclusion of the presentation of diplomas, a duet, "The Pilot" (Millard), was rendered with splendid effect by Mr. Cooper and Mr. H. K. Holden, after which Dr. Akerman made an announcement and the benediction was pronounced by Dr. McClure.

Following the graduating exercises, in a room across the hallway which was beautifully decorated for the occasion, an informal reception was held, during the progress of which dainty refreshments were served under the direction of Miss Clark, who was, with her associates, most charming in her hospitality.

The refreshment room was decorated by Rehder Bros, the florists, in yellow and white, the colors of the institution. The centre piece was a lovely creation in yellow cannas and asparagus ferns, while from each corner of the table to the chandeliers were suspended white ribbons. The chandeliers were draped withs milax, and in the four corners of the room in advantageous positions were stately palms and other plants. As the guests were assembling for the reception the quartette sang in the hall, "Stars of the Summer Night."

Sincere regret was expressed that President Walter G. MacRae and Mr. M. J. Corbett, two enthusiastic and devoted members of the Board of Managers, could not be present owing to their absence abroad. The other members of the Board were present, however' and took great interest in the exercises. They were Vice President W. H. Sprunt; Mr. Geo. R. French, secretary and treasurer; Dr. Bellamy, Mr. Sam Bear, Jr., Mr. M. S. Willard, Mr. D. C. Love and Mr. Jno. H. Rehder, the last named having been elected in place of Dr. C. P. Bolles, who found it impossible to serve longer on account of a press of other business.

Dr. Bellamy's Address.

The full text of Dr. Bellamy's excellent address is as follows:

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I acknowledge and appreciate the kind motives of those who selected me to address you on this eventful and auspicious occasion, marking as it does an epoch in the history of James Walker Memorial Hospital—the establishment of a training school for nurses. It is the consummation of the wishes and desire of the noble benefactor himself, who, with a countenance expressive of delight, often conversed with me on the subject. Would that this great man could have lived and could be with us on this occasion. It would be our greatest pride and pleasure to place him in a seat of honor, and enjoy with him these exercises; but providence has decreed otherwise, his living body cannot be with us, his spirit hovers over us; and in that presence let me say, with reverence and candor, the city of Wilmington has never known such a benefactor.

Harnett, Lillington, Waddell and Ashe, of the American Revolution, contributed much to our existence; Nature, with its bountiful provision, has done much for our prosperity; but compare anything and everything that has been done in the history of our town with what James Walker accomplished for suffering humanity, in the alleviation of its ills. Forty thousand dollars, made in the State of North Carolina, honestly and industriously, has been expended judiciously and in a most praiseworthy manner in the erection of this superb structure, and he, too, not "to the manor born."

It is a monument to his memory, and even though his name should be effaced from the building, generations yet unborn will revert to the establishment of this institution as a great event in the history of this time-honored town; a "monument more lasting than brass and more durable than marble."

The institution of a school for the training of nurses, by a systematic course of instruction, having been considered essential to every hospital of any importance, in connection with this hospital there were provisions made by a special act of the legislature for a training school for nurses, the legitimate offspring of an excellent system all over the country.

Though the training of nurses in an established training school was not commenced in Europe until Miss Nightingale, fresh from experience in the Crimean War, with great generosity established the first training school of nurses, under the auspices of the Order of St. John, at St. Thomas' Hospital in London in 1860; as early as the year 1800, however, Dr. Valentine Seaman gave a course of twenty-six lectures to the nurses of the New York Hospital upon important topics in relation to nursing and hygiene; these lectures were published and are the first recorded efforts for the improved training of nurses in the United States.

It was not, however, until 1863 that training schools were successively founded as follows: In Philadelphia in 1865, in Boston 1872, in New York 1873, and from that time dates the impetus to the improved nursing system, which has led to the organization of schools in all the great cities of the United States, graduating many thousands annually.

Every year of the continuance of this school, in connection with the hospital, will, I believe, teem with fresh proofs of its importance, its utility and its blessings, and as each succeeding occasion similar to this rolls around, I trust the number of graduates will increase and the character of them will remain good, thus enhancing the value and increasing the reputation of the institution.

The young ladies, who are to receive their diplomas, have after hard study and arduous labors at the bed side, and under the most trying circumstances, fulfilled all their obligations, and passing successfully the most rigid examinations, will now enter upon a different arena, and will I trust and believe, reflect credit upon their alma mater.

I have seen personally their good work and I bespeak for them a prosperous future. They will do their duty, they will smooth and soothe the pillow of pain and disease, and will materially and effectually contribute to the success of the medical attendant whoever and wherever he may be. And right here, and appropriately too, let me say in words of admonition to the graduating nurses, that there is and always should be a community of interest between the doctor and the trained nurse; one is dependent on the other; whatever benefits one, benefits the other; harmony, congeniality and a hearty co-operation will always redound to the comfort and materially aid inteffecting the cure of the patient.

They must remember that, as graduate nurses, they are presumed to be resourceful and tactful, and under the most trying circumstances which prevail in severe emergency cases, whether surgical or medical, they should be gentle, but firm, patient and forbearing, ignoring the uneasiness and whims of the suffering victim; for impatience in a trained nurse as well as a physican, is never tolerated by the sufferer or those immediately interested in him.

Remember that cleanliness, cheerfulness, vigilance and systematic regularity are the great qualities needed in a sick room. Remember, too, to hold on to a case, no matter how adverse the circumstances are, with a tenacity which never abandons a case while there is life.

It was my pleasure to lecture to you during the last session of this Training School, and as a prelude to my remarks on nursing in fevers, I had occasion to say, and will now reiterate, that nursing in fevers constitutes the greater portion of a trained nurse's duties, especially in private work. The services of trained nurses in such cases are needed for a longer period of time, demand more vigilant attention, more patience and forbearance, intelligence and tact, than in any other branch of work. The nurse should be clean, cheerful, uniformly kind and attentive and strike always a happy mean between extremes, on the one hand avoiding dereliction of duty, such as tardiness in carrying out the directions of the physician, failure to note in time changes in the condition of patient, and on the other hand supplying the patient's wants, and paying many little attentions which are agreeable to the patient and appreciated by him and often remembered with lasting gratitude. An important point in the care of a patient is, that he shall not be needlessly disturbed; here it is where the well trained professional nurse is such an advantage. "Fussiness is a destructive quality and ignorance is always fussy." Nurses who know their business, but imperfectly, are apt to be always in motion, always addressing the unfortunate patient, keeping him awake when he wants to sleep, constantly forcing drinks upon him, never resting themselves or letting him rest. Nurses from experience having acquired great skill will be able to see not only "the disease in the sick man, but the sick man in disease."

A most pleasant relation should exist between the physician and nurse; if differences there are, they should be adjusted, and under no circumstances should a nurse, particularly in private practice with prejudices against a physician, consent to nurse a patient under his care, unless the nurse should make up her mind to do her full duty to both physician and patient. Nursing is frequently as important as medical attention. Indeed the doctor and the nurse should be regarded as "twin forces each of which apart from the other loses half its value." Nurse every case without temerity but with tenacity and never abandon a case while there is life.

In conclusion let me say, that yours is a well established profession, training schools of the highest grade being in all the principal cities of the world. Competition is the order of the day; there is always room at the top, and if you wish to be successful aim high. My best wishes go with you, and I believe I bespeak for all interested in the welfare of our institution as well. May you encounter but few thorns and thistles on your pathway, and may many flowers and much sunshine cheer and encourage you, while battling with the great enemy and horrible monster "disease." I thank you for your kind attention.

TUESDAY MORNING, JUNE 30.

THE NEGRO PROBLEM IN DELAWARE.

Baltimore Sun: It seems that the negro beast who outraged and murdered Miss Bishop near Wilmington had been arrested for a somewhat similar offence some time ago in Pennsylvania. Commenting on this fact Rev. Dr. Bishop, the father of the murdered girl, said:

I notice that one of the Philadelphia papers criticises the action of the mob and declares that such a thing could not happen in Philadelphia. If such a thing had happened in Pennsylvania when the same negro was arrested for a criminal assault he would never have had a chance to repeat the offence in Delaware.

In other words, Pennsylvania law turned loose upon society a human wild beast to prey upon the innocent and defenceless. If anything can justify lynch law, that would do it. What would be said of a man who deliberately and knowingly turned a mad dog among throngs of children? And yet these Pennsylvania officials, if Dr. Bishop, who is a Pennsylvanian, is correct, turned loose a beast compared with whom a mad dog is a harmless and benevolent creature. And there was the Delaware court, instead of making instant preparation to swing the wretch from the gallows without the unnecessary delay of one hour, deliberately deferring his trial. That delay meant, of course, chances of escape or of some miscarriage of justice. And even if he were to be finally hanged, the delay would have robbed the punishment of its impressiveness and warning.

These considerations moved Gen. Isaac Jones Wistar, a sober, discreet, conservative citizen of Philadelphia, of mature age, a lawyer with every bias in favor of the orderly administration of justice, to make the statement which was published in the Sun yesterday morning. "Where the laws are not enforced," said Gen. Wistar, "it remains for the public to protect themselves by their own methods." The General added that in the place where he has his Summer home in Delaware, in the most densely populated part of the State and on the edge of its largest city, children cannot venture with safety a half mile on the public highways. There is constant danger of just such a fate as overtook the innocent young girl who fell a victim to the bestial ferocity of the negro White.

In the course of his remarks Gen. Wistar said:

Here in Delaware children cannot go from my place to school, the distance of one-half mile, without being accompanied at least part of the way. This has been the case for some years past. There can be no social safety or orderly industry without the assured safety of the home and the family, and we have no longer got it in Delaware. The State is overrun with predatory negroes from the South, who live with little or no work, but chiefly on what they can earn out of politics.

General Wistar here hints at a matter that is deserving of more than a passing notice. It is politics. That has been the bane and curse of the negro for 30 years. It was the political leaders from the North who sowed the seed of enmity toward his white friends and neighbors in the heart of the negro. It was politics and the price of his vote which attracted the class of negroes to which White belonged to Delaware, and it is politics which largely creates that class of negro criminals which is found in every part of the South. While he does not say so plainly, General Wistar evidently finds much to to justify the lawless outbreak at Wilmington, upon which the press of the country is now commenting, and largely without sufficient knowledge of the local conditions.

But if white women and children are not safe in their homes and upon the highways of Delaware, in a part of the State densely settled and guarded by police, and where the white population greatly predominates, what is to be said of those communities in the South where a white family is isolated amid negroes, miles from the nearest white neighbor and far out of reach of the protecting arm of the law.

If political conditions should attract a large negro population to the Northern States, as has been done in Delaware, then the people of those States may learn a lesson about the race problem which will cause them all to repent of the harsh and unjust criticisms of the South and its people who have been facing that problem for a generation and in that time have drunk the very dregs of the cup of bitterness.

Startling Evidence.

Fresh testimony in great quantity is constantly coming in, declaring Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds to be unequaled. A recent expression from T. J. McFarland, of Bentorville, Va., serves as example. He writes: "I had Bronchitis for three years, and was doctored all the time without being benefitted. Then I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and a few bottles wholly cured me." Equally effective in curing all Lung and Throat troubles, Consumption, Pneumonia and Grip. Guaranteed by R. R. POLITICAL SANITY IN IOWA.

New York World: The Democrats of Iowa deserve credit for what they say in their platform, as well as for what they refused to say. They rejected an indorsement of the Kansas City platform, in spite of persistent and frantic appeals from the late Mr. Bryan, by a majority equivalent to that given for the reaffirmation two years ago. And they voted down by more than 400 majority a resolution in favor of the Government ownership of railroads. Fancy the political power of the great army of railroad employees added to that now exercised by Messrs. Hanna, Quay, Platt & Co. over the postal and other civil servants!

Passing from negations to affirmations, the most significant and important is the denunciation of the tariff as "the creator of countless unearned fortunes and the shelter of huge combinations of capital organized as trusts," and the declaration that "to the end that the evils connected with the growth of trusts may be eliminated we call for the removal of the tariff from all trust-made goods, and demand that all tariff schedules be adjusted with a view to tariff for revenue only."

This goes boldly and directly to the root of the matter. It is Democracy up to date. When the voters shall compare it with the "Iowa idea" as emasculated by the smooth Allison in preparation for the Republican Convention—favoring a "revision of the tariff whenever necessary" (which means the day after never—the reaction against a personal tariff for monopoly only will surely begin to show itself.

The Iowa Democrats have done well in dropping dead issues, avoiding new follies and taking up the strongest live question in a straightforward manner.

CORNER IN COTTON NOW COMPLETED.

Bull Leader Brown Will Spend $10,000,000 in Deal—Similar Operations in Past Have Failed—Couldn't Sell.

NEW YORK, June 26.—The biggest single deal in cotton in the history of the Cotton Exchange was made to-day, when delivery notices were sent out for more than 150,000 bales of July cotton, to be turned over to bull leader Brown, of New Orleans.

Mr. Brown has now got the cotton supply of the country practically cornered. Over $10,000,000 in cash will be required for him to take all the cotton that will be delivered on his purchases, but Joseph H. Parker, one of the brokers who have been buying for him, said to-day that the Brown pool had ample money to carry through their deal.

Notices of the delivery were sent to three or four of the local houses representing Mr. Brown. The transfer will be made at 13 cents a pound, or $65 a bale. When Mr. Brown was here a month ago, the prediction of his brokers that cotton would go to 14 cents was laughed at. A hard reckoning for the shorts who cannot deliver the cotton is coming.

But the success of the Brown deal is regarded as doubtful, for word was received to-day that half a dozen of the biggest cotton mills of the country are about to close because prices are too high. If the mills keep on closing Mr. Brown will find himself with an enormous supply of high-priced cotton on his hands and unable to dispose of it. Former corners similar to this have met with disaster on this account.

There are now about 300,000 bales in the country. Brown already holds more than 200,000. He accepted all the deliveries made to-day, and will likely get the rest. Then the question is, can he sell it before the next crop moves? The effect of the high prices were said to-day to have already been shown in the dry goods business by a falling off of one-third in sales of cotton goods.

Rheumacide

Continues to make Miraculous Cures

READ THIS LETTER:

ALMOST A MIRACLE.

DILLON, S. C., Aug. 18th, 1902.

Gentlemen:—In September, 1899, I took rheumatism in a very bad form. In a month after the disease started I had to give up my work and go to bed. It continued to grow worse until my arms and hands were badly drawn, so much so that I could not use them. My legs were drawn back until my feet touched my hips. I was as helpless as a baby for nearly twelve months. The muscles of my arms and legs were hard and shriveled up. I suffered death many times over. Was treated by six different physicians in McColl; Dillon and Marion, but none of them could do me any good, until Dr. J. P. Ewing, of Dillon, came to see me. He told me to try your "RHEUMACIDE." He got me one bottle of the medicine and I began to take it and before the first bottle was used up I began to get better. I used five and a half bottles and was completely cured. That was two years ago, and my health has been excellent ever since. Have had no symptoms of rheumatism. I regard "RHEUMACIDE" as by far the best remedy for rheumatism on the market. I cannot say too much for it. I have recommended it to others since and it has cured them.

Will say further, that I began to walk in about six days after I began to take "RHEUMACIDE," with the aid of crutches; in about three months after I began to take it, I could walk as good as anybody, and went back to work again.

Very truly, JAMES WILKES.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, June 29.—The cotton market opened easy at a decline of four to ten points under disappointing Liverpool cables and more favorable weather accounts in connection with further reports reflecting a demoralized condition in cotton manufacturing circles with eight Fall River mills reported to be closing for the week. Right after the call the whole list turned easier under Liquidation in the absence of bull support. July declined to 12.95, August to 12.81, and September which was especially weak under liquidation reached 11.67, with the other new crop months showing net losses of from sixteen to eighteen points. Receipts at New Orleans were heavier than expected and this contributed to the selling movement, but as the market worked downward room shorts turned for profits and at the lowest points bull support again developed. Prices were sent back nearly to the best point of the morning only to turn easier again during the afternoon under renewed liquidation and the better character of crop news. The list was finally steady at eleven to nineteen points lower. Total sales futures were estimated at 300,000 bales.

PREMATURE AGE

Is Brought on by a Failing Body, as Many Wilmington Readers Know.

Failure to provide for the welfare of the body causes the body to fail, and brings on premature age. Men of 35 who are afflicted with kidney troubles walk about like men of 75. It's easy to cure it, and to regain the elastic step that you should have. A well known Wilmington man tells how.

J. A. White, electrician for the Coast Line R. R., at Rocky Mount, residing at 206 North Sixth street, says: "I have had great trouble with my back, right across the loins, and when I sat still for a while I hardly knew how to move and when I did you would think I was seventy-five years old. They are pains all over me and I could not tell where they were to strike me. I used liniments and lots of remedies, but nothing did me any permanent good until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Bellamy's drug store and used them. They helped me in a very short time and seemed almost to oil up my joints, in fact, I have not had the pains since I used them."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute. je 28 1w

TEETHINA

(TEETHING POWDERS)

Rev. J. W. Berry (of Arkansas Methodist Conference, writes): "Enclosed find fifty cents for which please mail me two packages of "TEETHINA." We wonder how we have raised children without it. The other day a lady in Missouri sent us a package and it came at a most opportune time; our babe was in a serious condition; his bowels had been in bad condition for days, and nothing that we gave did any good; the second dose of "TEETHINA" gave perfect relief and he has had no further trouble. Other members of the family have used it and every dose has been a perfect success.

HIS FIRST LOVE...

By MARTHA McCULLOCH-WILLIAMS

Copyright, 1902, by McClure's Newspaper Syndicate

"Goodby," Hartland said, with the least hard breath.

Avis locked her hands behind her, echoing: "Goodby! You see, I do not offer to shake hands. We agreed in the beginning our friendship should never sink to the level of the proprieties."

"There remain always—the improprieties," Hartland said, very low, catching her handsomely in his arms and kissing her twice.

Avis shook herself free with a little hurt gasp: "You, oh, you! I never believed you could be—like all the rest!"

"Why, do all of them kiss you when you make them ride away?" Hartland asked, with a twinkle, wholly unabashed.

Avis turned reproachful shoulders to him. "If all of them kissed me, do you think I should not accept one of them—as a watchdog if nothing more?"

"I know I should make an excellent watchdog—the very best sort," Hartland said, laying his hand upon the shoulder farthest and whirling her half about.

"YOU MUST MAKE UP YOUR MIND TO MARRY ME."

Avis flung up her head, saying: "We will not quarrel over an idle jest. Spend these last minutes instead in telling me"—

"What?" Hartland asked as she paused tentatively.

For a breath she was silent, then said very slowly: "Telling me you understand me; that you know I like us to be what we are—just good fellows"—

"But I know nothing of the sort," Hartland said, smiling whimsically. "Contrariwise, I'm strongly of opinion that you would have been sadly disappointed if I had not made love to you this once if no more."

"What makes you believe so?" Avis said, pretending to frown, though there were ghosts of dimples about her lips.

Hartland bent to look into her eyes. "The fact that you are yourself," he said.

"So you think I've been acting," Avis said, with a pout.

"Acting one part of yourself," Hartland answered, turning her hand palm upward within his own and tracing its lines with caressing finger tips.

"Indeed! Tell me—ought I to look shocked? Is that the way the others do when you break out this way?" Avis asked, merry malice in her eyes.

Hartland laughed indulgently. "I am not quite certain on that point," he said, "but this I do know—you must make up your mind to marry me just as soon as I am ready."

"May I ask when that will be?" Avis asked demurely, pulling away her hand and dropping her lashes.

"As soon as I have made terms with—the other woman," he said. "Luckily that is mainly a question of money. I can afford to buy my freedom."

"Did you—did you ever think you loved her?" Avis asked.

Hartland laughed grimly. "I was sure of it until I saw you," he answered. Avis' eyes grew wistful. "Might you not love her again if you went back to her?" she asked. Hartland nodded. "Perhaps—that is, if there was no chance of you."

"What is she like?" Avis demanded eagerly.

Hartland looked at her with a veiled twinkle. "She is everything that you are not. I think that describes her best," he said. "You see, this is an affair of years. It goes back almost to my college days"—

"I think you had better keep on with her," Avis said, drawing a little away. Hartland laughed. "It is too late," he said. "She knows all about you. I made up my mind that she must know last week."

"You might—might tell her you had been joking—telling tarrydiddles to test her temper. Did she show herself a cat?" Avis asked eagerly. "But of course you can't answer that. I dare say she referred you to her lawyer."

"Nothing of the sort," Hartland said. "She is too well bred for such a suggestion—grande dame to her finger tips—the sort that always makes you think of ancestors and old silver and point lace and velvet gowns. She's worth a lot of money, but has no special income. I'm going away to see that she is properly placed in life."

"Suppose she should find some one else," Avis began.

Hartland smiled enigmatically. "She has found some one else," he said, "but there's a matter of money in the way. No; don't ask another question. I shall be back within a week. Do you think that is too long a time?"

"I could send off a dozen men in just one day," Avis said, half turning from him. "But it may turn out you will not leave her at all. Anyhow I shall be very nice to poor Vallery—until we see what we shall see."

"Do, by all means," Hartland returned. "Meantime hurry with the wedding garments."

"That is advisable—with a man so fickle," Avis said over her shoulder as she ran away.

* * * * * * *

Hartland came back a day before the week end so radiantly happy there was no gainsaying him. Almost before Avis, most capricious of coquettes, knew it she was married and whisked away in a coach behind four spanking bays. It was not the least bit romantic, therefore all the more to her mind, this sitting in the box seat while her new husband handled reins and whip, and the smiling summer landscape melted into soft dun distances on either hand. They went at a rattling pace, and in the joy of it Avis almost forgot her new position and the unseen rival, thoughts of whom had haunted her through the nights. Of course she would never speak of her to Hartland. She knew he was taking her to his own big house—a house no doubt filled for him with memories of that earlier love. Suppose he tired of her—of her yellow hair, her baby dimples, her willful, beguiling, winsome ways? Suppose even in thought he sighed for the other? She could not bear to contemplate it.

They had been silent full five minutes. The sinking sun lay full in their eyes. Hartland saw it glisten upon bright drops welling over. He smiled under his mustache, but said nothing—only sent the horses through the gate and up the long avenue at their very best pace.

Leaping down, he lifted Avis and carried her well inside the big hall.

"I thought you would be crying by the time we got here," he said, setting her down in a big easy chair. "Now that I have you hard and fast, hear the truth. You had a rival. She used to live on that panel over there between the window. She was only a picture—I picked her up in Europe, called her Marion and vowed my wife must look like her. That was, of course, before I saw you"—

"Of course," Avis interrupted. "But why did you tell me such dreadful fibs about her?"

"Because I wanted you so very, very badly," Hartland said, gathering her in his arms. "You were such a flyaway I knew you would never look at a sober citizen such as myself unless I could somehow persuade you that I was forbidden fruit. Confess! You would have played with me as with all the rest if I had not given you a rival."

"Where is she now?" Avis demanded.

"In retirement, ready to be sent to a museum which has been wild to buy her," Hartland responded.

Avis sat up straight. "Bring her back! At once!" she said. "You know I live to set maxims topsy turvy. You shall be off wi' the new love until you are on again wi' the old."

Things That Are Said.

In farming, as in other lines, it pays to be beforehand. Already many agriculturists are beginning to formulate plans for handling their 1903 crops.

The truth is if you want anything and go to work to get it you can get it. Men like to help such a young man. Pluck is a quality we all admire.

In all our manufacturing concerns today the watchword is economy. Such a thing as waste is practically unknown. How about the farm?

Talk about wildcat investments! The woods are full of them, and the farmers are biting like suckers. We regret to say this, but it looks so.

To make a successful season every farmer needs "git, grit and gumption."

Worst of All Experiences.

Can anything be worse than to feel that every minute will be your last? Such was the experience of Mrs. S. H. Newson, of Decatur, Ala. "For three years," she writes, "I endured insufferable pain from Indigestion, Stomach and Bowel trouble. Death seemed inevitable when doctors and all remedies failed. At length I was induced to try Electric Bitters, and the result was miraculous. I improved at once, and now I am completely recovered." For Liver, Kidney, Stomach and Bowel troubles Electric Bitters is the only medicine. Only 50 cents. It is guaranteed by R. R. BELLAMY, druggist.

THIS IS A PROGRESSIVE AGE.

IF I AM ANY JUDGE OF THE TIMES I THINK THIS COUNTRY IS NOW IN THE MOST PROGRESSIVE STAGE IT HAS EVER BEEN IN.

The laboring man is drawing more salary as well as all skilled labor, which has advanced in price. Everything raised by the farmer is selling at prices sufficient to bring him a profit. There seems to be work and work plenty for everybody to do. While our people are making their strides to the front I am trying to keep in the procession. My business is to sell dry goods, shoes and clothing, millinery, house furnishing goods and trunks. Our Big Store on Front street is receiving New Goods every day—we have added a big line of new white Lawn this week; this line is extra good value, 5c to 25c; a nice line of 32 inch Dress Lawns with small dots and stripes and white grounds, pretty patterns, 5c yard; one line 25c lawns in colors, bought cheap, we will run at 12½c yard.

In Overalls we have secured the agency for the Headlight Overalls, made in Detroit, Mich., and we think they are the best made. They are sold on a guarantee made of the best denin, with felled seams throughout; we have four different lines of colors and all sizes; remember the name, The Headlight; we expect to prove to the good trade of this city that wears overalls that we have the line they want. The price is $1 a garment or $2 a suit and the caps are 15c; we are the sole agent for this overall for this city and we would be glad for you to look at them and compare them with other makes; we don't simply say they are as good, but say they are better.

For Trunks—This is the season when if you are leaving home you want a nice trunk; we handle trunks and have a big line to show; we have a nice line of roller tray trunks for the ladies and we carry three factories' lines. The price runs from $7.50, $9, $10 and up to $15 each; canvas covered trunks, with leather straps and iron bound, $3.50 to $6 each; all styles in packing trunks from 50c up to $2 each.

A full line of leather suit cases for travelling men, $3 50, $4 and up to $6 each. Leather hand satchels from 90c, $1.25 and up to $5.

For Summer millinery we have lots of white Duck Hats and Tuscan Flats, fancy Veils with embroidered edge Silk Hats, made on frames. White and black chiffon hats and everything that is in an up-to-date millinery store. New Ribbons—Just received to-day a nice line of new Taffetta Ribbons, No. 16 and 22 at 10c. A nice line of fancy Ribbons, No. 50 at 10c per yard.

All kinds of Velvet ribbons.

Wilmington's Big Racket Store has been very successful this year. We have sold more goods than ever. We have got the goods and we want to sell them.

Remember the new line of overalls—The Headlight. We expect to make this line of overalls carry the procession in the head ranks of the overall business.

The Morning Star.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

TUESDAY MORNING, JUNE 30.

FIREBRAND IN THE PULPIT.

Sensational Sermon by a Negro Preacher in Wilmington, Del.--The White Man Declared a Monster Incarnate.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WILMINGTON, DEL., Juue 28.—The Rev. Montrose W. Thornton, colored, pastor of the First A. M. E. church of this city, preached a sensational sermon to his congregation to-night. The church was crowded in the expectation that the Rev. Mr. Thornton would have something to say of the events of the past week. He said in part:

"The white man in face of his boasted civilization stands before my eyes to-night the demon of the world's races, a monster incarnate; and in so far as the negro race is concerned seems to give no quarter. The white man is a heathen, a fiend, a monstrosity before God and is equal to any act in the category of crime. I would sooner trust myself in a den of hyenas as in his arms. With a court of law and officers of the law in his hands the despised negro can expect no mercy, justice or protection. The negro is unsafe anywhere in this country. He is the open prey at all times of barbarians who know no restraint and will not be restrained.

"There is but one part left for the persecuted negro when charged with crime and when innocent. Be a law unto yourself. You are taught by this lesson of outrage to save yourself from torture at the hands of the blood-seeking public. Save your race from insult and shame. Be your own sheriff, court and jury as was the outlaw Tracy. Die in your tracks, perhaps drinking the blood of your pursuers. Booker T. Washington's charity, humanity, advice of forgiveness, love, industry and so on will never be reciprocated by white men."

THE MANCHURIAN QUESTION.

Indications That Russia Has Changed Its Policy So As to Make It More Acceptable to the United States.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—It is indicated to-day that the Manchurian question may be permitted to rest temporarily so far as action at this end of the line is concerned, since Secretary Hay has left the city for a two weeks' vacation and Cassini, the Russian ambassador, has been booked to sail for Europe.

There are indications, too, that the Russian government has found it possible to shape her policy respecting Manchuria so as to be more acceptable to the United States. Secretary Hay and Count Cassini, within the past week, have conferred upon this subject, and it is apparant that there have been some developments, which officials do not care to make public at this time.

In the negotiations with China for a commercial treaty this government has been insistent upon the opening of certain ports in Manchuria, and the new turn appears to have given a more hopeful feeling in that direction.

PEKIN, June 29.—The Russian minister, M. Lessar, has been suddenly summoned to a conference with General Kuropatkin, the Russian war minister; Admiral Alexieff, in command of the Russian fleet in the Pacific; M. Pokotiloff, manager of the Russo-Chinese bank at Pekin, and other officers at Port Arthur regarding Russia's position in Manchuria. M. Lessar leaves here July 1.

SITUATION IN CHINA.

Rear Admiral Evans Asks the Navy Department for More Marines.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Rear Admiral Evans, in a report to the Navy Department, has again called attention to the necessity of maintaining an adequate force of marines at Olengapo, in the event of an emergency in China. He regards the internal unrest there with apprehension and recommends that the force of marines at Olengapo be increased from one thousand to fifteen hundred. The marine corps is now 500 short of its full quota, and recruiting will be continued on an active scale this Summer in the effort to secure the additional 500 men for dispatch to the Philippines in the Fall.

MORE INDICTMENTS

Against A. W. Machen and the Groff Brothers for Bribery.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—The grand jury reported additional indictments against August W. Machen and the Groff brothers in the case of Machen, for receiving a bribe, and in the case of Groff brothers for giving a bribe. These indictments are brought in to cover three additional counts and to put the first indictment on the same footing as the second, which latter involved T. Lorenz, of Toledo, Ohio., on the charge of conspiracy to defraud. At the suggestion of Justice Pritchard, presiding over criminal court No. 1, defendants will be arraigned this week.

FALLING ELEVATOR INJURES MANY.

Bad Accident at the Plant of the A. J. Heinz Company in Allegheny, Pa.

TWENTY-THREE WERE HURT.

It is Thought That Two at Least of the Injured Will Die--The Car Was Overcrowded and Some of the Machinery Gave Way.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

PITTSBURG, June 29.—The breaking of a shaft on the first floor of the A. J. Heinz Company's plant in Allegheny to-day released the ropes supporting a large freight elevator on which twenty-three persons were crowded. The cage fell from the fifth floor to the cellar, a distance of forty-five feet, and every one on the elevator was injured. It is thought that at least two will die.

The list of injured: John Churney, Allegheny, both legs broken, will likely die; Mrs. Edward Holman, Mount Hope, N. J., injury to spine, will probably die; Joseph Webber, Allegheny, both legs broken, condition serious; O. P. Thompson, Allegheny, leg crushed; Mrs. C. R. Sammons, East End, Pittsburg, spine injured; Imogene Rodman, Paris, Ky., ankle sprained and spine injured; Andrew Bollock, Allegheny, ankle sprained; H. A. Morrison, Hazelwood, compound fracture right leg; Mrs. A. Loths, Allegheny concussion of spine and ankle sprained; William Koncans, Cleveland, Ohio, arm sprained and ankle sprained; C. Howak, Cleveland, ankle sprained and injury to spine; Mrs. A. Vodrasta, Allegheny, cut by flying glass; Chas. Shurney, Cleveland, body badly bruised; John Lotabar, Cleveland, concussion of spine; Mike Demike, Cleveland, leg sprained; John Vahisky, Cleveland, ankle sprained; Mrs. William Mitchell, Hazelwood, leg fractured in two places; Mrs. Victor Bailey, Hazelwood, leg fractured; John Brotsky, Pittsburg, ankle sprained; Steven Jasco, Cleveland, ankle sprained; Mrs. Minnie Spring, Glenshaw, ankle sprained; Mrs. E. W. Thornton, Hazelwood, compound fracture of leg; Mrs. Geo. Sherlock, compound fracture of left leg.

When the accident occurred the elevator was evidently overcrowded. According to what was told this evening by Dr. J. S. Phillips, physician at the plant, the antics of two men on the elevator, who were intoxicated, caused the disaster. Dr. Phillips says the two men crowded on the car after being told by the operator to stay off.

Once on they commenced jumping, with the result that the shaft snapped and left the elevator without control.

According to the story told by William Koncans, a dry goods merchant of Cleveland, to-night at the hospital, there was no disorder in the crowd. "I thought there were too many on the car," he said. "When I saw how crowded we were, and as soon as the car left the fifth floor I am certain every one realized that something had happened to the machinery and that the elevator was slipping. There was not a sound or cry uttered by any one until we landed in a heap in the cellar."

All but two were visitors to the Heinz plant. Weber and Thompson are employed by the company.

The Cleveland people are members of the Bohemian Catholic Central Union and took part in the blessing of the guns of the cadets of St. George of Allegheny on Sunday.

To-day they took for sight-seeing, and the plant was on the programme. An examination of the plant and machinery showed that those injured narrowly escaped instant death, as the 750 pound weight at the side of the shaft shot to the roof of the building, ripped through the timbers at the top and fell half its length through the ceiling over the sixth floor. Had the timbers been a little less stout, the huge weight would have fallen nearly sixty feet upon the mass of injured people huddled in a heap on the floor of the demolished elevator.

The screams of the injured and the crash of the huge cage as it struck the bottom of the shaft brought hundreds of workmen and women to the rescue and a hurry call was sent for ambulances and physicians and the injured were hastily examined and hurried to the hospitals.

In a statement given out by the officials of the plant it was stated that the elevator was thoroughly overhauled and a new drum placed in position about two years ago and had always been inspected daily by the man in charge of the machinery, once a week by the oiler, and once a month by the millwrights. The break occurred in a place impossible to be detected by the inspectors, as it was inside the large drum.

COLUMBIA GOLD MINING CO.

Henry Alton, the President, Arrested for Violation of Penal Code of New York. All Books Seized by the Police.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, June 29.—Henry Alton, president of the Columbia Gold Mining Company, was arrested to-day charged with violation of section 363 of the Penal Code, which makes it a misdeamnor to neglect to file with the county clerk the names of the persons in a company or co-partnership.

Postoffice Inspector Ashe has been working on the case for six weeks. Police Inspector McCluskey said to-day that the arrest on a technical charge is said to have been due to a fear that the notoriety given the case might cause the men concerned to leave the city. All the books of the company were seized by the police. These records will be gone over carefully, and the company's customers communicated with. The company has been advertising very largely in Italian, Polish, and Yiddish newspapers. Among the names used in the advertisements were those of Samuel W. Thompson and Walter R Eaton, employes of the custom house here. Assistant Secretary Armstrong, of the Treasury, has requested written reports from these officials respecting their alleged connection with the company.

QUIET DAY IN RICHMOND.

No Disorder—Cars Running on All Lines. No Change in Situation.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RICHMOND, VA., June 29.—This has been the most peaceful night in Richmond since the street railway strike began. Absolutely no disorder has been reported from any quarter. Cars were run regularly on all the city lines to-day and to-night, the number of militia guards on the cars being diminished and the passenger travel being decidedly greater. There are no indications of the strikes being declared off, however. Both sides to the controversy are maintaining firm attitudes. The company is now replacing the strike-breakers with men permanently employed to operate the cars. Most of these new employes are from Baltimore and other cities north of Richmond.

RUSSIA'S REGULATIONS CONCERNING THE JEWS.

Additional Towns and Cities Opened to Them Where They Will be Permitted to Reside and Acquire Property.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 29.—The amendment to the "temporary regulations of May 15th, 1882, permitting Jews to reside and to acquire real estate in 101 additional towns within the pale of Jewish settlement" is thus explained by the Jewish journal, Voskhad:

"The temporary regulations which have been in force during the last twenty-one years were hastily issued and were not brought into conformity with other laws. Their enforcement caused nearly all the Jews living in rural districts, amounting to about twenty per cent. of the whole Jewish population in 1882, to be driven into towns and cities. The pale of Jewish settlement previously embracing fifteen provinces, suddenly sprung to a limited number of towns. The senate was quickly overwhelmed with appeals against the illegal enforcement of the regulations and in 1884 was petitioned, though vainly, for their repeal.

The number of towns open to Jews has continued constantly to diminish and the Jews, more and more cooped up, have been driven hard for a subsistence. As a result the towns with Jewish populations have been officially pronounced breeding places for psychical and physical diseases. The minister of the interior in view of the dangers from this has decided to open 101 new places to Jewish settler. In the list are many former Jewish colonies which had been within recent years transformed legally into villages and thus withdraw from the category of permissible places of abode for Jews. In the province of Chernigov authorities have broken up Jewish colonies which had existed from time immemorial.

"The 'temporary regulation' it may be briefly stated, forbid Jews to move into cities and town where they had not been living when the regulations were issued, to remove from one hamlet to another or to acquire or rent land."

AMERICANS THE WINNERS

In Three Events Against the Boats of the German Fleet at Kiel—The Emperor Presented the Prizes.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

KIEL, June 29.—The American men-of-war men won a first, second and a third in to-day's races, against the boats of the German fleet. The Americans had four boats entered in three events, while the Germans had thirty-seven and the American crews were not familiar with the course and had not specially trained for the occasion.

The Chicagoans hailing cutter, entered by Midshipman Stephenson C. Rowan, to-day, won Princess Henry's prize for warship cutters.

The sailing launch of the San Francisco, entered by Ensign George W. Steele, Jr., won the prize in the race for warships' launches.

The German crews cheered the American winners heartily.

The Emperor presented the prizes to the winners at the Yacht club to-night, in the shape of personal gifts to the officers commanding the launches. Ensign Steele received a silver cup.

"I hope you will drink many a bumper out of it," said Emperor William, handing it to him. Lieutenant Mustin and Midshipman Rowan, who sailed the Chicago's small cutter, received cigarette boxes.

The officers of the United States squadron this afternoon received about one thousand guests on board the United States flagship Kearsarge, principally German naval officers and visiting Americans. There was a "smoker" on board the Kearsarge to-night.

Emperor William was unable to be present at the reception on the Kearsarge because he had engaged long ahead to distribute prizes at a tennis match.

Prince Henry was at the reception with the princess, his wife. She danced with Lieutenant Charles L. Hussey, of the Chicago.

STRIKE IN CHARLESTON.

Several Hundred Men Engaged in Building Operations Quit Work.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHARLESTON, S. C., June 29.—Several hundred workmen engaged in building operations went on a strike to-day as a result of a disagreement between the Building Trades Council and employing contractors. Contractors say they are not seriously hurt, as there is no rush of work on hand and little important building being done. The matter involved is chiefly recognition of the union and does not affect wages or hours of labor, though these features are being introduced and will probably figure in any negotiations for a settlement. Some work is being done by non-union employes.

CREOSOTE WORKS BURNED.

Plant at West Pascagoula Destroyed--Loss Estimated at $200,000.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

MOBILE, ALA., June 29.—A special from West Pascagoula says that fire to-day totally destroyed the West Pascagoula creosote works, entailing a loss of probably $300,000. The works are said to be the largest in the South. The fire was caused by a piece of hot iron falling on the creosote. An explosion followed. No one was injured.

FOUR MEN SHOT.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

SAVANNAH, GA., June 29.—Four men were shot and wounded, one of them so seriously that it is feared he will die, during a dispute in a saloon in this city early to-day. The injured are: Nathaniel Evans, perhaps fatally; G. D. Bryan, James L. Doss and James T. Bennett. It is said that the trouble grew out of a difference between Doss and Bryan.

DOWNPOUR OF RAIN IN NEW YORK CITY.

Water in Some of the Streets Was Four and Five Feet Deep Part of the Day.

DAMAGE WILL BE GREAT.

Lightning Struck Tammany Hall and Other Conspicuous Spots — Flood Serious Along the Shore Front and in Brooklyn.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NEW YORK, June 29.—New York and vicinity, as well as this part of the country, was flooded to-day by a downpour of rain, during which in the course of a few hours about half as much water fell as in the prolonged wet weather this month. The storm was accompanied by thunder and lightning, and several conspicuous spots were struck by bolts. Streets in various sections of Greater New York were inundated and it is expected that the damage by water will be very great. The flood was most serious along the shore front, on South and West streets, in the Borough of Manhattan and in the Williamsburgh section of Brooklyn, where much damage was done by floods twelve years ago. For a good portion of the day here, the water in some of the streets was four and five feet deep and families were held prisoners in their homes.

Lightning struck Tammany Hall, but the damage to the building was trifling.

Fifteen feet of a sewer which is being constructed in Brooklyn caved in and filled with mud and water. There were about twenty men at work in the excavation, but all managed to escape except Peter Sears, who, it is supposed, was caught in the flood and washed away in the sewer.

TURKEY AND BULGARIA

The Bulgarian Premier Declares That War Between the Two is Imminent.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, June 30.—The Belgrade correspondent of the Times says M. Petroff, the Bulgarian premier, has given an interview in which he declared that the Sultan of Turkey and the Bulgarian government were both opposed to war, but the situation was worse than at any time since the delivery of the Turkish note last Spring.

M. Petroff anticipates a war and expresses contempt for the Turkish army which he says cannot mobilize inside of two months, whereas Bulgaria can mobilize an army of 250,000 well armed men very quickly. It is possible, he thinks, that the Sultan in order to avert a war may make concessions, but unless he does so a catastrophe is imminent.

TABLETS UNVEILED.

Celebration of the Birth of John Wesley Concluded in Savannah.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

SAVANNAH, GA., June 29.—The bicentenary celebration here of the birth of John Wesley was concluded to-day with the unveiling of three tablets marking spots intimately associated with the great preacher's life. Dr. John F. Goucher delivered the address of the occasion, his subject being: "The Rise of Methodism and Anglo-Saxon Supremacy."

Each of the tablets was unveiled by little girls, daughters of Savannah Methodists. Wesley hymns were sung. As the last tablet marking Wesley's home was unveiled, the assembly, standing with uncovered heads, sang the Doxology. Each tablet was draped in the stars and stripes and union jack.

A SAD ACCIDENT.

Young Man Shot and Killed His Mother at Swansboro, Ga.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

SWAINSBORO, GA., June 29.—Robert Rich, aged 21, to-day accidentally shot and killed his mother, to whom he was devoted. He was playing with a pistol, showing how smoothly it worked. His mother, an invalid, was seated near. In unbreaching the pistol something went wrong, there was an explosion, and Mrs. Rich screamed and fell, shot through the breast. She died almost instantly. Young Rich is almost crazed with grief and has to be constantly watched to prevent suicide.

JONES MURDER TRIAL.

Jury in the Case Still Unable to Agree. A Mistrial Predicted.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WILSON, N. C., June 29.—The jury in the Jones murder case came into court to-day and asked for further instructions, which Judge Shaw gave. He also urged upon the jurymen the importance of agreeing on a verdict, saying that they were just as capable of deciding the issues as any other jury will be. A mistrial is predicted.

The Illinois Central and the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railways have filed answers to the complaint of the Planters' Compress Company, which contended for a differential in favor of round bale cotton. AT WILMINGTON, DEL.

Mass Meeting of Negroes to Protest Against Lynching Was Not Held.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WILMINGTON, DEL., June 29.—The proposed mass meeting of colored residents of Wilmington, to protest against lynchings and to take steps to protect the negro population of this vicinity, was not held to-night. Chief Black made a request of influential colored men to use their influence against the holding of a meeting at this time, for the reason that such a thing might incite further trouble between the whites and the blacks. A small crowd gathered in the vicinity of the place where the meeting was to have been held, but the police quickly dispersed it. After that no one was permitted to loiter near the hall.

The police commissioners to-day commended the course of the police force during the past week.
